

Sweetheart,

You once told me to write as often as possible even if it's only 'I love you' on a bus ticket. Well this letter is not going to be much more than that. But seeing as how I've said goodmorning to a hundred and one other people today I don't think I should leave out my beloved Eh-h-h?

Hope you settled into your new billets O.K. and that they're comfortable. How about the grub situation? Does it look promising? Think you're likely to put on any more weight porkey-mine?

I went over to see Vera last evening & Hilda & Joan were there. Tim went out to meet Hux

(who is up on 7 days) and we had a regular hen-paty. Discussing men, and married life & babies &c &c.

They've had a note from Tom posted from his boat - but apparently he didn't convey much useful information - just like Tom eh? However he asked for our address so maybe we'll get an epistle from him in due course. What do!

Am posting off the S.E.P. together with this.

Sorry its so short - but lay or short. I love you angel. - and a bus ticket would have done to write that on.

Kisses + all that goes with them,
Love
