

The Office.
Tuesday.

Dearest,

Such a cheery little note from you this morning, which set me bang on top of the world once more. So you are feeling happy, though very busy, and there are bright prospects of some leave in the near future eh? Who wouldn't be happy!! lucky people !!

I immediately started to plan what I shall buy with me if we go to Bm. Yes I'll pop over to the Dive on Saturday afternoon, and press + air shirts, pullovers, slacks + jacket for you, meanwhile I must collect your heavy shoes & get the toe-cap stitched this week. I'm vavin' to go.

You didn't give any details of the trouble, but I s'pose I can hold out until I see you. Coo!
I'm looking forward with glowing ears to hearing from you by phone,
I hope you will manage to get through soon.

I think I'll drop you mum a line and let her know that you are full of beans & maybe getting home soon. They are all very fit, and send you their love.

And so do I, darling, all of mine.

Hope you are getting my letters pronto.

Your, Clare

XXXX
XXX

102044

Belm. 2.4. Westarsay,

Plux. 500221.

Hm. MTB. 710.

Co. GPO.

London.