

The Office
Thursday.

Sweetheart,

If you could have seen your wifey tripping downstairs to lunch today you'd have said "mum very smart, very posy." The first because I was wearing my camel-hair coat & paisley scarf.
The second cos I'd just consumed pages & pages of your latest letter.

I was so glad to hear your first reactions re. utility furniture. I wouldn't state my views till I had heard yours, but I plump for the easy chairs every time. I think They are quite the best buy in the range, and I feel that we are much more likely to find a suitable cupboard or wardrobe in secondhand stores.

This talk of pastures new intrigues me - and I naturally hope that the buzz materialises into something more definite.

Sorry, angel, circumstances do not permit of further writing at the moment, so I will carry on the good work this evening if poss.

All my love, Sweet,

Clare

Wm. D. H. Westwood
P/mx. 500221
4th NIB. 710.
7
London.
harden.

Clare Westwood