

I wonder what you'll be when you first open this letter. Maybe on the train returning to the home, and maybe when you are far from these Shores. Wherever you may be, darling, I'll be thinking of you, loving you,
and dreaming of your homecoming.

Clare