

The Office
Monday.

Dearest bez

What a night, eh darling?
It had its wonderful moments, but it also had its sad ones. Parting from you has never been easy, but oh, I hope we never have another occasion like last night.

I love you so, darling, and all the time you are away I'll be thinking of you, writing to you & planning for those glorious peacetime days ahead. I'm trying to know if we shall have our little blue-eyed baby, and waiting until the middle of April is not going to be easy.

It would be heavenly, though,
wouldn't it?

I am going to try to buy some air mail stationery & post it off at lunch time.

I'm looking forward to your phone calls, angel, though I don't know what we will find to say that hasn't been said a thousand times before — but it stands repetition, doesn't it honey?

Keep smiling, and take care of yourself precious,

I'll be seeing you. All my love & thoughts & dreams go with you,

Bless you,

Clare

POST
EARLY IN
THE
O.V.

LONDON SW1
3 15PM
26 MCH

Postmark: Po. (mm) 154H. Wednesday

Amx. 50001.

Press no. 18.

AMS HORNET

GOSPORT. Hawks