

85

29.8.45.

The Flat.

Wednesday. 29.8.

Dearest Leg

Well here are the photos much sooner than I expected 'em.

There is obviously only one worthwhile amongst 'em but I send them all. When I had the proofs I must say I was undecided whether to have a copy of each, but Sanchow having gone through the ordeal and being entitled to three copies anyway I decided to have one of each pose.

The upright is very plain - and I don't think "quite nice"
- would have been an improvement if I'd turned my back on the camera I feel.

The second one is obviously a strain - but having pulled a muscle in my shoulder & held the position for several minutes I don't wonder that I appear to be at bursting point! If you don't believe me try it yourself! I believe it is very good for Constipation. Ugh!

Number three is quite sweet - pity my shoulder dropped. Notice that my face is much rounder?
And of course my hair is wind blown. Like it? Otherwise the picture depicts the same lean outline, I do hope you still like 'em built for speed and not comfort. darling.

And now if you will forgive me, sweet, I've got some washing to do & I also want to shampoo my mop. — OK? If I promise to write a budget tomorrow?

Night night sweet,
I love you,

Clare