

93.

Bombay.

4.11.45.

Sweetheart, This is a special note to cover these snaps. If I include them in the usual letter the envelope looks to last any minute.

"Me!" is a little on the dark side but otherwise a fairly good snap. How's the fingers making out?

The Group was inevitable & here as comments - just a bunch of the kids.

"In the boggin" was taken to prove that glamorous tho' we are we do actually enter the water. ~~Play~~ Playful, aint we?

The view gives you a general idea of what Juhu is like - the buildings are a "hotel" & we go there after a swim for a drink. Out worries park on the green belt at the back of the beach.

So far as I know the lifeguard had never done anything else but sit on his perch. He hires out surfboards, which are quite good fun when there's any surf. Sunbanned, aint he?

Whadya think of my nonlight effect? It was just an experiment to see what the effect of photographing in the sun would be.

The workshop boxes are of the shop wherein I used to work until a few days ago when I was shifted to another shop. The coolies are

3

Our greasers - general oil rags - are very funny fellows indeed. They'll part the life out of me for a copy of these prints.

No more for today, Batsy - kubby's signing off.

With love,
k.

An Active Service.

POST OFFICE MARITIME MAIL
Mrs. [unclear] Westbury
884 Belle Grove Rd.

Welling

Kent

England.

93(a)

Received 14.11.45