Sunday 18/11/11.

My Sweet One,

When you read this you'll know that George is back in England & I can't be far behind. I thought it would give you a thrill to have a letter from me posted in England - it'll probably be the only one you'll ever get from me from now on, because when I get back there be no need for letters, it'll be me in person, that'll be giving you all the love & care that a happily married husband can muster.

Just hang on. While longer, dearest - "if winter has won, can Spring be far behind?" (No alpersine in George!)

I adore you,
